Teaser	You can have your residence permit for the subsequent immigration of spouses extended if you meet certain requirements.
Volltext	The residence permit for the reunification of spouses with foreigners is a temporary residence title. You can apply for an extension of the residence permit if you wish to stay in Germany and your spouse or partner is in possession of a valid residence permit in Germany. In principle, the same conditions apply for the extension of the residence permit as for its issue. If your residence permit is extended, it will be limited in time again. The residence permit is extended for the period of validity of the spouse's or partner's residence permit. As a rule, the residence permit cannot be extended if this was already ruled out when the residence permit was issued or last extended. If you were obliged to take part in an integration course when your residence permit was first issued, this will be taken into account when your residence permit is extended. If you have not yet taken part in an integration course, the immigration authority may reject your application to extend your residence permit. If you have not yet completed the integration course, the residence permit will generally only be extended for one year at a time until you successfully complete it or provide proof that you have been
