Teaser	As a surviving dependant, you will receive a settlement from the statutory accident insurance instead of a pension if you remarry or enter into a new civil partnership.
Volltext	As a widow or widower and registered partner, you will receive a survivor's pension from the statutory accident insurance in the event of death as a result of an insured event. If you remarry as a surviving dependant or enter into a new registered civil partnership, the surviving dependant's pension granted will be settled. You will receive 24 times your monthly pension as a settlement. The calendar months worked as part of a survivor's pension with a fixed term in advance will be offset against the settlement amount. If you have already received a pension settlement on remarriage or a new registered civil partnership and your marital status has changed again, please contact your employer's liability insurance association or accident insurance fund. They will advise you on
