Volltext	An exemption permit for entry in the register of craftsmen in accordance with § 8 HwO can be granted if there is a reason for exception and your master-like knowledge and skills in the requested craft as well as in the commercial and legal area are proven. However, an exemption does not entitle you to use the master craftsman title and to train in the relevant trade. An exemption may be limited to a partial activity of a craft. ## Sachverhalt

Your overall situation will be taken into account. Lack of time or money and professional overstrain are usually no exception. An exception for a temporary exemption may exist, for example, in the case of:

- prolonged unemployment
- Opportunity to take over a business

In the case of a temporary exemption, the master craftsman's examination must be completed within a period of usually no more than 2 years. The time limit depends on the respective circumstances. A binding commitment to take the master craftsman's examination and admission to the master craftsman's examination must be proven. Certificate of competence The granting of an unlimited as well as a temporary exemption requires proof of master-like knowledge and skills in the (partial) craft concerned as well as sufficient commercial and legal knowledge. Submitted training and employment references and other evidence may be considered. If sufficient proof of qualification is not possible in this way, you can prove the required knowledge and skills in a competence test. The examiner is commissioned by the competent Chamber of Crafts. The costs of the competence test are to be borne by you.
