Voraussetzungen

The general requirements for the issuance of weapons permits must be met. These are:

Minimum age In principle, a minimum age of 25 years applies. By way of derogation, the following exceptions apply:

- A minimum age of 21 years applies to the first issuance of a firearms permit if you can present a positive expert opinion on mental suitability.
- A minimum age of 18 years applies to the issuance of a firearms permit for small-calibre weapons and shotguns.

Reliability As a rule, applicants do not have the reliability of weapons law if, for example, they have been convicted of crimes in connection with the handling of weapons. The determination is usually made on the basis of information from the Federal Central Register, the Central Public Prosecutor's Register of Proceedings and by queries at the Hessian State Criminal Police Office and the State Office for the Protection of the Constitution of Hesse.

Personal Properties A person is only personally fit if he or she is mentally and physically capable of handling weapons. This is not the case, for example, with alcohol or drug addiction. In the event of doubts as to

Hinweise	The weapons acquired do not have to be approved and required for a discipline of the federation or club in which the sport shooter is organized. It should also be possible for the sport shooter to practice the shooting sport with his own weapon as a guest shooter. However, because of the general principle of need, it must be a weapon for sporting shooting on the basis of an approved shooting sports regulation.
