Sachverhalt

- Parts of an airport where screened passengers may be present shortly before departure,
- parts of an airport where screened checked baggage is located or transported through, and
- areas of an airport where aircraft and other aircraft are parked - for boarding and disembarking as well as for loading and unloading.

The regulation therefore also applies:

- Pilots,
- student pilots and trainee pilots,
- Members of airport-based clubs,
- student interns and trainees,
- Suppliers of goods and similar suppliers,
- traders and business people and
- employees of cleaning companies.

The purpose of the background check is to establish that you do not pose a risk to air traffic safety.

The check includes

- Personal details,
- past employment and training periods and a review of any gaps in the past five years,
- your places of residence over the past ten years,
- a check of criminal records and
- information from authorities.

Checking the safety of civil air traffic.

You must apply for a background check yourself via your employer and the airport operator. Your employer will bear the costs.

Obligation to cooperate: You are obliged to cooperate in your check. This may also mean - if necessary in individual cases - that you have to undergo a test for narcotics, for example.

As a rule, your reliability will be denied if

- you have been sentenced to imprisonment, a juvenile sentence or a fine of at least 60 daily rates for an

Sachverhalt

intentional criminal offense or

- you have been sentenced twice or more to a lesser fine and the last sentence was less than five years ago,
- you have been sentenced to at least one year's imprisonment for a crime or other intentional criminal offense and the last conviction was less than ten years ago,
- the Federal Office for the Protection of the Constitution has monitored you in the past ten years.

Nevertheless, each individual case is subject to an individual assessment.

The background check may be waived if

- an extended security check has been carried out for you in accordance with Section 9 or Section 10 of the Security Check Act or
- you only require one-time access to security areas at the airport and can therefore work with a day pass, for example, or
- you work exclusively in generally accessible areas of the airport.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

General:

- Copy of identity card on both sides or
- Copy of passport

Please refer to the relevant information sheets of the aviation security authority responsible for you.

Special:

- for pilots and trainee pilots:
- Confirmation from the flight school; for recurrent checks: Pilot's license
- if your place of residence has been abroad for more than six months in the past five years: Certificate of no criminal record or European Certificate of Good Conduct
- Proof of employment for the last 5 years (does not apply to pilots)

Voraussetzungen

The following persons may submit an application for a background check:

1. Persons who are to be granted more than occasional access to non-public areas of the airfield premises of a commercial airport in order to carry out a professional activity,
2. Personnel of aerodrome and aviation companies, air traffic control companies, freight, postal and cleaning companies as well as goods suppliers and comparable supply companies whose activities have a direct influence on the safety of air traffic,
3. Persons who are deployed as temporary employees,
4. Pilots and flight students,
5. members of airfield-based clubs, student interns.

A check is possible after recruitment by the company working in the security sector or as an applicant for a job. A preliminary check to improve their chances on the job market is not possible, as the legislator has defined the group of persons conclusively.

The application must always be submitted via the employer (exception: private pilots and flight students).

Kosten

Gebühr: 88€

Private pilots and flight students bear the costs themselves.

- You are obliged to actively participate in your check.
- If doubts arise about your reliability during the check, you can comment on the information obtained.
- You will then be informed in advance that your statements must be truthful or that you can refuse to provide information.
- After the check, you will receive a notification from the aviation security authority.
- At the same time, your employer will be informed of the decision.
- If you have also applied for an access authorization, the airport operator will also receive information.
- The decision may be positive or negative.
- Your employer and the airport operator will only be informed of the result of the check, but not of the information previously obtained about you.
- If your application is rejected, you have the option of lodging an appeal
- Once the decision has been made, a fee notice will be
