Volltext	You can claim social compensation benefits in accordance with SGB XIV if your health is impaired as a result of the damaging event. Before the eligibility requirements have been established, injured persons can receive benefits for medical treatment as well as benefits for participation and special benefits in individual cases. The application only concerns benefits that are not granted by the health insurance fund. If the result of the initial assessment does not yet allow a final decision to be made on the entitlement or its scope, but the requirements for the approval of individual benefits are likely to be met, a provisional decision can be made on the provision of benefits. The prerequisite for this is that an application for a provisional decision has been submitted and there is a legitimate interest in the provisional decision. The scope and reason for the provisional decision must be stated in the decision. Once the investigations have been completed, the final decision must be made without delay.

Sachverhalt

Harmful events can be, for example, an act of (physical and psychological) violence, medical treatment or a vaccination. Compensation helps to compensate for any loss of income and to cover the costs of medical treatment and rehabilitation. Possible beneficiaries may be victims of civilian service, war victims, vaccination victims or victims of violence.

Please note that your social compensation provider will decide whether and to what extent you will receive support.
