Teaser	Would you like to apply for the preparatory service for a teaching profession in NRW? You can find out more here.
Volltext	You intend to apply for admission to the preparatory service for a teaching post in NRW. The most important principle for the procedure is equal opportunities for all applicants. The application always applies to the whole of North Rhine-Westphalia. Please note that you are not entitled to training at a specific Center for Practical Teacher Training (ZfsL) or a specific training school. You can indicate your preferred location in the procedure and justify this with proof of social reasons. All parties involved endeavor to match the available training capacities, the number of applicants and the applicants' wishes. The SEVON application portal (www.sevon.nrw.de) is designed to support and guide you with your application. North Rhine-Westphalia has been conducting two recruitment procedures per year for several years. Approximately 4,500 - 5,000 applicants across all teaching disciplines apply for each

Verfahrensablauf

You can only be accepted into the preparatory service for a teaching profession in the state of NRW if you apply via the online procedure(www.sevon.nrw.de) by the respective application deadline (cut-off deadline) and upload your application documents. During the application period, it is possible to submit additional documents online via the application portal. After the application deadline, the portal will be closed. Documents must then be submitted by post or presented in person.

Please take your time to complete the application form and upload your documents. Please note that the application portal will close after 60 minutes of inactivity. You will then have to log in again.

You will receive a confirmation email when you have successfully submitted your application and documents. Even if you upload and subsequently submit documents, communication will take place by e-mail. You should therefore regularly check the inbox of the e-mail account you have specified and also the spam folder. The district government will also send reminders of missing documents by e-mail.

The district governments will record your data, check your application documents and decide whether the location you may have claimed can be recognized.

Sachverhalt

After the application deadline, it will be checked whether a teaching profession is subject to admission restrictions. No decision can be made during the application process. If your teaching profession is subject to an admission restriction, you will be informed of this in writing.

For applicants who can choose a school form specialization, the training places in each school form of a school level are determined and distributed in a special allocation procedure.

The district governments send the offers to the applicants and assign them to a Center for Practical Teacher Training (ZfsL).

In the recruitment offer, you will also be informed about the assigned school form focus and the assigned training subjects. Applicants must submit the required documents (e.g. Master's certificate / certificate of good conduct) to the district government by the deadline (approx. 14 days before the recruitment date). Documents submitted late will result in exclusion from the procedure.

You will be assigned to the training schools by the centers for practical teacher training (ZfsL). The heads of the centers will issue you with the appointment certificates with effect from the start of the preparatory service.

Bearbeitungsdauer

The respective procedure begins with the start of the application and ends on the day of appointment as a civil servant on revocation.

Frist

The regular recruitment date is May 1st of each year. Applications must always be submitted to the district government responsible for you by November 15 of the previous year. If November 15 falls on a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, it is replaced by the next working day. Since 2007, North Rhine-Westphalia has also introduced a second annual deadline in the fall. A new decision is made each year on the establishment of this additional date. The additional hiring date is November 1st of each year.
