Teaser	Do you handle airbag or belt tensioner units of category P1 in your commercial activity, e.g. when installing and removing them in vehicle workshops? If the handling is carried out by trained personnel, you do not need a permit. However, you must report the first handling of airbag or belt tensioner units in your company.
Volltext	Airbags and belt tensioners contain pyrotechnic substances (detonators). They are therefore subject to the Explosives Act. If handled incorrectly, these components pose a considerable risk of serious injury or even death. If you handle airbag or belt tensioner units of category P1- as intended in the course of a commercial activity, you do not generally require a permit in accordance with § 7 of the Explosives Act. However, the prerequisite for this exemption from the permit requirement is that the handling is carried out by trained personnel - i.e. with limited specialist knowledge. The limited specialist knowledge in accordance with § 4 Para. 2 of the 1st Explosives Ordinance is taught in an approx. 6-hour training course. The limited specialist knowledge only authorizes the installation and removal of airbag and belt tensioner units of category P1, as
