Kurztext

- Residence registration for inland navigation operators and seafarers
- If an inland waterway vessel is used that is registered in a ship register in Switzerland, the person must register at the location of the ship's home port
- if the seagoing vessel flies the federal flag, the shipowner must register the vessel
- the registration obligations described do not apply if the person is registered in Switzerland for a residence
- Responsible: Registration authority of the ship's home port or that of the shipowner
- Registration can also be made with other registration authorities and the water police

Ansprechpunkt

For inland waterway skippers, the registration authority of the municipality or city in which the ship's home port is located. Other registration authorities or the water police may accept your registration, which will then be forwarded to the registration authority of the home port.

For seafarers, the registration authority at the shipowner's registered office.
