Teaser	You would like to take in a foster child? Then you must first qualify as a foster parent.
Volltext	In order to be allowed to take in a foster child, in certain cases foster carers need a permit according to §44 SGB VIII. An application and qualification process is a prerequisite for obtaining the permit. For the placement as a foster carer within the framework of help for upbringing granted by the youth welfare office, a permit according to § 44 SGB VIII is not required. However, the Youth Welfare Office or the foster child service checks the suitability of the foster carers according to the same criteria. The task of integrating a child who is initially a stranger into one's own family, of making him or her feel at home in one's own family in the long term or permanently, and of supporting and raising him or her is a demanding one. The high demands placed on foster parents cannot and should not be met by them alone. Rather, the foster family is part of a supportive network that has pedagogical knowledge, methodological competence and many years of experience. Before starting their work, foster carers must have completed the qualifying courses offered by the foster child service. The decisive factor for accepting a child in general full-time care is a match between the needs of the child and the existing competencies and resources of the caregivers. A professional qualification in a nursing or pedagogical profession is not expected of caregivers in this form of
