Teaser	You want to adopt a related child? The adoption center advises and accompanies you through the next steps. Here you can learn more about the process.
Volltext	In a relative adoption, a related child, such as a niece, nephew or grandchild, is adopted. In contrast to full adoption, only the child's relationship to both natural parents is terminated, but not that to his or her other relatives. Whether the adopting parents are suitable and the best interests of the child can be guaranteed must be examined just as carefully as in the case of adoption by a third party. The best interests of the child always come first. A parent-child relationship must be created by the adoption. In the case of relationships up to the third degree, in contrast to full adoption, only the relationship of the child to both natural parents is terminated, but not that to its other relatives.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Copies of transcripts from the birth register • Copy of marriage certificate • If applicable, copies of death certificates or divorce decree of former spouses • Copies of birth records of legitimate, illegitimate and adopted children • BZR extract • Health certificates • Extended registration certificate • Copies of income certificates
