Verfahrensablauf

You can apply for an examination number in writing or online.

- If you wish to apply in writing: The first step is to have an official analysis carried out by an approved laboratory. Submit the completed and signed application form together with 3 sample bottles to the responsible testing authority. 2 sample bottles will be sealed and returned to you for storage. One bottle remains with the testing authority for tasting. Once the tests have been completed, you will receive a paper test certificate with the result for the test number applied for.
- If you wish to apply online: You create an online application for an examination number via a corresponding state portal. Add the analysis data created by an approved laboratory to the application, protected against changes. You will then receive a document / sticker to download for labeling and assigning the sample bottles. You then hand in the labeled sample bottles to the responsible testing laboratory. Once the tests have been completed, you will receive a test certificate in electronic form with the result for the test number applied for.

In Saxony-Anhalt, it is not yet possible to apply online.
