Volltext	Application for a benefit under the Act on Compensation for Victims of Violent Crimes (Victims Compensation Act - OEG) If you have been the victim of a violent crime, you can receive compensation from the state under certain circumstances. The conditions are regulated by the Victims Compensation Act (Gesetz über die Entschädigung der Opfer von Gewalttaten / OEG). The benefits for acts of violence in the Federal Republic of Germany are based on the benefits provided for in the Federal Victims of War Act (BVG) and can consist of the assumption of medical costs, for example, but also of pension benefits for victims or their survivors. The amount of compensation varies depending on the individual case. In the case of injured persons, the degree of the consequences of the injury is decisive. Victims of violence abroad can (under certain circumstances) receive medical treatment and one-off payments in the amount of the degree of the consequences of the injury. In addition to victims of violent offences, SGB XIV also includes victims of the effects of both world wars, victims of events in connection with civilian service and victims of vaccinations or other specific prophylactic measures. The compensation regulations are the same for all affected groups.

Modul

Sachverhalt

You are not entitled to make a claim if

- You caused the injury yourself or provoked it through your behaviour
- You, as the injured party, do not contribute to the clarification of the incident within the scope of what is possible for you (this is, for example, and usually the case if you do not file a criminal complaint)

Note: If claims under the Victims' Compensation Act coincide with other claims for compensation under social law, the claim under the Victims' Compensation Act may be waived or reduced. This is also the case if the injury is also an occupational accident within the meaning of the statutory accident insurance or an occupational accident according to the principles of civil service law.

procedure, you can obtain the necessary forms here via Amt24 or directly from the competent office.

- Fill out the application as completely as possible, following the instructions for completion.
- Submit the application with the required documents and evidence to the competent office.

Examination of the application and notification

The facts of the case will be investigated ex officio. The parties involved are obliged to cooperate. The administrative authority may

- Hear persons providing information and experts,
- Obtain expert opinions and official information, and
- Obtain documents or demand that they be submitted by the parties involved.

With the consent or at the request of the applicants or beneficiaries, the administrative authority may inspect medical papers, records and similar documents from the respective institutions.

You will receive a written decision as to whether and to what extent you will receive victim compensation.

Bearbeitungsdauer

Frist

- Application deadline: Application for victim compensation within one year of the crime suffered • Granting of benefits: with retroactive effect from the month of the violent act if there is an existing claim If the one-year application deadline is exceeded after the act suffered, benefits can only be granted from the month of application and for the future.
