Sachverhalt

the corresponding election at your new place of residence.

Moving within the electoral area

If you move within the respective electoral area and register at your new place of residence before the 42nd day, you will be entered in the electoral roll ex officio.

If you register at your new place of residence after the 42nd day, the following applies:

Elections in the city / municipality or in the locality / borough

If you move within the city / municipality or locality / urban district after the deadline, you will remain on the electoral roll of the electoral district to which your old home belongs.

Please note! If you move within the municipality, you may only be eligible to vote in municipal council elections, but lose the right to vote in local council / borough council elections because you have moved out of the locality / borough.

District administrator and district council elections

For district council and district assembly elections, the same applies to moving within the district area as for municipal elections. However, if you move to another municipality within the district after the deadline, you have the opportunity to register on the electoral roll of your new place of residence (up to the 16th day before the election). If you only move within the district in the last two weeks before the election, it is no longer possible to be included in the electoral roll. However, you have the option of applying for a polling card in the municipality in which you are moving so that you can participate in the ballot box election at the polling station in your new place of residence on election day as well as in the postal vote.
