of your investment institution, an electronic procedure is also permissible if your signature is replaced by an electronic authentication and the application is then transmitted in accordance with the officially prescribed data set.

Voraussetzungen

According to your income tax assessment, your taxable income for the savings year is not higher than

- EUR 35,000 if you are single, or
- EUR 70,000 if you are married or have formed a civil partnership (if jointly assessed spouses / civil partners according to the LPartG).

Please note: You cannot receive both the employee savings allowance and a housing construction premium for capital-forming benefits (VL) (e.g. when paying into a building society savings contract). This rules out double preferential treatment. For this reason, the expenses to promote housing construction may not be VL for which there is an entitlement to an employee savings allowance. If you are unable to apply for an employee savings allowance, for example because you exceed the income limits, the VL can be included in the application for a housing construction premium and taken into account in the assessment.

Kosten

Verfahrensablauf

You must apply for the housing construction premium at your investment institution. To do so, use the form sent to you by your investment institution together with the annual account statement.

Procedure for home loan and savings contracts: The housing construction premium is regularly only calculated and reserved. Payment of the accumulated housing construction premiums to the building society - in favor of your building society contract - is generally only made when the building society contract is used for housing purposes.

Exceptions:

- If you had not yet reached the age of 25 when the contract was concluded, no use for housing purposes is required. In this case, you will receive the premium for the last seven years of savings when you dispose of the home loan savings balance if at least seven years have passed since the contract was concluded.

Modul

- In special cases (e.g. total disability or unemployment lasting more than one year occurs after the contract was concluded), you will receive the housing construction premium calculated for the last seven years of savings when you dispose of the building society savings balance, even if you do not use the building society savings balance for housing purposes (non-harmful disposal).

Special features for old contracts (concluded before January 1, 2009): The housing construction premium is only paid out for payments into a home loan and savings contract if

- this has been allocated,
- the 7-year period since the contract was concluded has been exceeded or
- the home loan and savings contract has been disposed of without detriment.

If you use the accumulated credit balance for other purposes within the 7-year stipulation period, you will no longer be entitled to the housing construction premium.

Bearbeitungsdauer

Frist

You must submit the application by the end of the 2nd calendar year following the savings year.
