Under certain conditions, the subject-specific higher education entrance qualification can be issued without an Abitur via a higher education admission assessment.

There are four main requirements:

1.

The university admission assessment is formally an examination, but in fact it is merely an assessment interview, i.e. not an examination in the traditional sense. A decision is only made on the basis of the files and the impression of the examination committee as to the applicant's suitability for the subject and for studying.

At the artistic universities (Hochschule für Musik Saar and Hochschule der Bildenden Künste Saar), different admission requirements apply for prospective students without a school-leaving certificate.

The regulations governing university admission for qualified professionals at the HBKsaar are currently being revised. Please contact: Service page for students - Hochschule der Bildenden Künste Saar (hbksaar.de)
