Teaser	A broadcasting fee must be paid for each apartment.
Volltext	In the private sector, the broadcasting fee is levied per home and does not depend on the type and number of broadcasting devices. The rule is: one home - one contribution. The broadcasting fee covers all • broadcasting devices, • smartphones and • computers within your home and in the private cars of all residents. If a resident pays the broadcasting fee, this covers the obligation to pay the fee for all persons living in the apartment. This regulation applies to • families • Shared flats • Unmarried couples Are you a student living in a student hall of residence? In this case, it depends on the exact spatial conditions on site. You must pay a broadcasting fee if you have your own entrance to your room directly • directly via a generally accessible corridor or • from the stairwell or • from the outside. If several rooms are separated from a generally accessible corridor or stairwell by a separate apartment door and are used like a shared flat, only one person must be registered for the broadcasting fee, as in any other shared flat, and the shared flat can share the broadcasting fee.
