Teaser	In order to be able to offer so-called over-the-counter medicines in the trade, you must prove the corresponding expertise by passing an examination.
Volltext	In principle, medicines may only be sold in pharmacies. However, there are exceptions for so-called over-the-counter medicines. These can be, for example, teas, ointments or tablets containing herbal substances such as valerian. If you want to sell these products in your shop, an employee with proven expertise must always be on site. You can demonstrate this expertise by taking the exam. In the exam, you must be able to answer questions on, for example, the proper storage of over-the-counter medicines, possible hazards of overdosing on the active ingredients, and legal regulations on handling and selling. The questionnaire includes 50 multiple-choice questions and 5 open-ended questions. You should prepare for the exam in terms of content, for example by attending a preparation course. However, this is not a prerequisite for registering for
