provision of sexual services. Examples: Brothels, brothel-type establishments, flat brothels, appointment flats or model flats.

Prostitution brokering means:

Procuring at least one other person to provide sexual services outside of the operator's prostitution premises. This also applies if it is merely apparent from the circumstances that the services procured include sexual acts. This also includes driving and escort services (so-called escort).

Prostitution vehicles are:

as a rule, motor vehicles, in particular mobile homes, caravans, vehicle trailers and other mobile facilities (e.g. sea and inland waterway vessels that are not permanently connected to the shore) that are made available for the provision of sexual services.

Prostitution events are:

events organised for an open circle of participants at which at least one person directly present offers sexual services.

They are granted permission for a specific operating concept. For this, the minimum requirements for the respective prostitution business must be met.

Permission is only granted if the prostitution business is to be operated in a municipality with at least 35,000 inhabitants. This only applies if there is no complete ban on prostitution in the entire municipality by legal ordinance.

If you wish to operate a prostitution business with a proxy, you must also apply for a proxy permit for a prostitution business.
