Teaser	If you wish to discharge commercial/industrial wastewater into a private wastewater system or sewer system, you generally require a permit.
Volltext	If you want to discharge wastewater into a private wastewater system, you need a permit. Under certain conditions, the permit requirement does not apply. You apply for the permit from the responsible authority. Public wastewater facilities are available to the general public, private facilities are available to a restricted group of users, for example companies in a chemical park. For certain industries and activities (such as the chemical industry, paper production, metal processing, cooling water use), pollutants are to be expected in the wastewater that are not sufficiently purified in a municipal wastewater treatment plant, for which requirements are specified in the industry-specific annexes to the Wastewater Ordinance.

To comply with these requirements, special measures and wastewater pre-treatment plants are required to reduce the pollutant load so that the wastewater can then be treated in a public or private wastewater treatment plant without causing any harm.

The district councils and the mayors of the independent cities are generally responsible for performing these tasks as lower water authorities in accordance with Section 42 (1) LWaG.

The State Offices for Agriculture and the Environment are responsible for issuing a permit for indirect discharge if the discharge from the downstream sewage treatment plant is into coastal waters.
