| Teaser | Would you like to offer catering with alcohol on tap as part of a temporary event (e.g. funfair, town festival, shooting festival) or for another temporary occasion (e.g. canteens)? Then you need a temporary permit (authorization). |
| Volltext | If you wish to operate a catering establishment serving alcohol as part of a temporary event (e.g. funfair, town festival, shooting festival) or for another temporary reason (e.g. canteen on the occasion of a major construction site), you require a temporary permit under catering law (permit). This only applies if the event in question can be attended by anyone or by a specific group of people. Permission is also required if you have a traveling trade license. Conversely, you do not require a traveling trade license for a specific event if you already have a permit for this (§ 55a Para. 1 No. 7 GewO). As a permit is only granted for the duration of a specific event, i.e. for a limited period of time, it is subject to less stringent requirements than the granting of a permanent restaurant license. |
