Teaser	All dogs in Thuringia must be identified with a microchip. This is injected by a veterinarian and contains a transponder number, which ensures an exact assignment of the dog. As proof, every dog owner receives a certificate from the veterinarian.
Volltext	According to § 2 paragraph 4 Thuringian Law for the Protection of the Population against Animal Dangers (ThürTierGefG) every owner of a dog is obliged to mark his dog with a microchip. The veterinarian must issue proof of this identification; compare § 2 paragraph 1 Thüringer Chippflichtverordnung (ThürChipVO). A standardized state form has been created for veterinarians. This proof is to be handed over to the responsible regulatory authority, compare § 3 paragraph 2 ThürChipVO.
