Volltext	Since 15.07.2017, the ID card has been issued as standard with an activated online ID function (also known as the eID function) to persons aged 16 and over; since 01.01.2021, EU citizens and nationals of the European Economic Area aged 16 and over can receive eID cards with an electronic proof of identity function. An activated eID function and PIN are required to be able to identify yourself online to companies and authorities. If you have set your own PIN but forgotten it or misplaced the PIN letter, or if the online ID function has not yet been activated, you can either • use the electronic PIN reset and activation service (currently still in an initial beta version) or • contact your ID card or eID card authority. With the help of the PIN reset service, holders of an ID card or eID card who have a registered address in Germany can reset the PIN of their online ID card themselves. Holders of an ID card with a German registration address can also activate the online ID card themselves. As eID cards can only be applied for from the age of 16 with an activated online ID card, this activation service is only available for ID cards that can also be held by persons who are not yet required to
