Teaser	You can obtain a residence permit for the recognition of foreign professional qualifications in order to compensate for the deficits in your professional qualification determined by the recognition office, also within the framework of qualified employment in the desired profession.
Volltext	They can obtain a residence permit for the recognition of a qualification measure if they intend to work in a non-regulated profession in order to compensate for the identified deficits in the context of qualified employment. Non-regulated professions are professions without specific state requirements for their practice. That is, there is no professional license required to work in the occupation. The Federal Employment Agency must approve the practice of the occupation. Within the scope of the approval, it checks, among other things, whether the employment does not take place under less favorable working conditions than the employment of comparable domestic employees. The residence permit for the recognition of professional qualification during employment is a temporary residence title. It is issued for two years.
