stay in Germany to fulfil your official duties.

In the event of an extension, your residence permit will be limited again. The duration of the time limit depends on the planned duration of your employment.

For the extension of your residence permit, a participation of the Federal Employment Agency is not required.

You may have been obliged to attend an integration course when you first issued your residence permit. If this is the case, this must be taken into account when extending your residence permit. If you have not yet taken part in an integration course, the Foreigners' Registration Office may reject your application for an extension of your residence permit. If you have not yet completed the integration course, the residence permit will only be extended by one year until you successfully complete it or provide proof that your integration into social life has taken place elsewhere.

If you have been in possession of a residence permit for three years to perform official duties with a German employer, you are entitled to a permanent residence permit (settlement permit). This waives the requirement to have paid contributions to the statutory pension insurance for at least 60 months or to have to prove expenses for entitlement to comparable benefits.
