Modul

Sachverhalt

If the candidate fails the final examination, he/she has the right to apply for an extension of the training period until the next possible date to re-sit the examination. The maximum term for this extension is one year.

1. Part-time training

The regular training period is extended for part-time training programmes. The agreement on part-time training is part of the contractual training arrangement; it can be agreed at the beginning of the course of training, or, for a limited period, during the course of training. The principle is:

- The reduction of daily or weekly training hours may not exceed 50 percent of a fulltime traineeship.
- The training period is extended pro rata, but may not exceed 1.5 times the regular duration.

If an extension of the training period is granted, it may mean that the end of part-time training does not coincide with the central examination dates. At the trainee's request, an extension may be granted up to the next possible examination date.

You must make your application to the authority responsible for your training. Depending on the particular occupation, this may be the Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Chamber of Agriculture or another chamber.

- It is reviewed upon receipt and your training employer is asked for their views. In individual cases, the vocational school may also be asked to give an opinion.
- You and your training employer will receive a confirmation of amendment.

Part-time training:

- You may make the request to reduce the total training period due to parttime training together with the request to register your training arrangement at the beginning of your training.
