Sachverhalt

In the past, the vehicle registration document fulfilled the function of the registration certificate Part II. If there is still an old vehicle registration certificate for your vehicle, it remains valid.

In contrast to the registration certificate Part I, you should not carry the registration certificate Part II with you while driving. You should keep the registration certificate part II in a safe place.

Voraussetzungen

Kosten

The fees are charged in accordance with the Annex to Section 1 of the German Road Traffic Fee Regulations (GebOSt).

The amount of the fees may vary depending on the case constellation. Specific information on this can be obtained from the relevant local licensing authority

Verfahrensablauf

In the case of a new vehicle, you will usually receive a pre-filled form of the registration certificate part II from the manufacturer when you purchase the vehicle.

If you buy a used vehicle, you will receive the registration certificate part II together with the purchased vehicle.

For a vehicle that is or was registered abroad, the completion of a registration certificate part II form is only permitted in connection with the registration of the vehicle. When the vehicle is registered, the registration certificate part II is issued by the responsible registration authority.
