Teaser	Here you will find information on admission to an evening grammar school as well as on special features of the type of school.
Volltext	The evening grammar school is an institution of second chance education. As an adult student with professional experience, it offers you the opportunity to acquire the general university entrance qualification (Abitur) after a three-year course of study. They go through a one-year introductory phase in the classroom and a two-year qualification phase in the course system. At the evening grammar school, you will be taught a high level of general education and you will be specifically prepared for university studies. The acquisition of the highest German school-leaving certificate is accompanied by personal development, which, in addition to your degree, is an important prerequisite for your professional advancement. The evening grammar school is the right choice for you if you do not (yet) want to or cannot give up your current job completely. Classes usually take place five days a week in the evening and at two locations also in the morning. Alternatively, the "Abitur-online" model is offered. Half of the lessons are divided into "attendance phases" (two to three weekdays at school) and half into "distance phases" (accompanied learning at home on the PC with the help of an Internet-based learning
