Teaser	Wildlife accident - What to do now
Volltext	If there is an accident involving wildlife on the road, whether alive or dead, the accident site should be secured with a warning triangle and/or hazard warning lights to protect following traffic and prevent further accidents. Dead game should only be pulled from the road if this is possible without endangering yourself (use protective gloves!). Injured game should not be touched or disturbed in any other way (stress for the animal, danger to self). An injured animal may only be killed by an authorized and competent person (e.g. the person authorized to hunt). As a rule, veterinary treatment is not possible (with the exception of an accident involving a wolf - in this case, a vet must be called in by the person recording the accident). Please stay as far away from the injured animal as possible, as the closer you get to the injured animal, the more stressed it becomes.
