profession in the home country in accordance with the law of the home country. A certificate to this effect must be submitted to the competent authority in the home state. A corresponding certificate must also be submitted to the competent bar association annually after admission.

The applicant must settle in Germany and thus set up a law firm. He or she must observe the German professional obligations and use the professional title that he or she may use in the country of origin in accordance with local law. When using the professional title, the country of origin must be stated in German. In particular, the term "Rechtsanwalt" may not be used. However, the term "member of the bar association" is permitted.

Kosten

The fee for admission to the bar association is between EUR 250 and EUR 500.

In addition, there is an annual fee set by the respective bar association (around EUR 200 to 300 per year).

The fees and contributions can be paid by bank transfer (also via online banking).

Verfahrensablauf

You must submit the application for admission to the Bar Association together with the required documents to the Bar Association in whose district you wish to establish yourself.

Bearbeitungsdauer

The competent bar association will decide on your application once the complete application documents have been submitted.

Frist

none
