Teaser	The Bavarian State Office for the Environment announces the bodies that operators of certain waste wood treatment plants must commission in order to fulfill their obligations under the Waste Wood Ordinance to initiate certain tests on waste wood.
Volltext	The Waste Wood Ordinance obliges operators of waste wood treatment plants for the processing of waste wood for the production of wood-based materials to have tests carried out every four months on the pollutant content of waste wood. In principle, these operators only meet these testing obligations if they have the prescribed tests carried out by bodies that have been notified by a competent authority.
