| Volltext                   | If you give up the operation of your business, the business must be deregistered. The same applies if you relocate your business to another municipality. You must then deregister your business at the previous location and re-register it at the new location. If you relocate your business within the municipality, a business re-registration is sufficient.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
