Teaser	Would you like to apply for the legal traineeship and have you completed your degree in a country of the EU, EEA or Switzerland? Learn more here.
Volltext	With the successful equivalence test, the equivalence of your university degree with the state compulsory subject examination of the first legal examination is determined. This allows you to be admitted to the legal traineeship.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	your diploma, your diplomas, test certificates, other qualifications Evidence of relevant work experience You must submit the documents in the original or as a certified copy.
Voraussetzungen	You must have a university degree in law from a member state of the European Union.
Kosten	There are no fees.
Verfahrensablauf	You must apply in writing for the equivalence test to be carried out by applying for admission to the preparatory service. Enclose a certified copy or the original of your degree certificate and your other proof of achievement with this application. After the application has been received, the equivalence test will take place. If full equivalence of your degree is determined, a corresponding notification will be issued. With this decision, you can apply for a position in the legal traineeship. The application procedure is then based on the application procedure for applicants who have obtained their university degree in Germany.

	If equivalence is not or only partially determined, you will also receive notification of this. In order to be admitted to the legal traineeship in this case, you have to take an aptitude test. You must apply for the aptitude test in writing. After passing the aptitude test, you can apply for admission to the legal traineeship. The application procedure is then based on the application procedure for applicants who have obtained their university degree in Germany. The aptitude test basically consists of 6 supervised papers (although these can be waived in part due to a determination of partial equivalence). The aptitude test is passed if at least 3 supervisory papers, of which at least one is from civil law, have been passed.
Bearbeitungsdauer	The processing time for the equivalence test is (in the case of complete documents) about 3 months. The aptitude test procedure takes around 6 months from the date of application.
