Verfahrensablauf	You use the online service to apply for a residence permit and upload the required documents. The responsible office will then send you an appointment for an interview. Please bring all required documents, preferably in their original form, with you to the appointment. The responsible authority will check your identity and documents. The competent authority shall involve other authorities where necessary. If your application is approved, your fingerprints, signature and a biometric photo will be taken to produce the electronic residence permit (eAT). The responsible authority commissions an external body, the Federal Printing Office, to produce your eAT. As soon as the eAT is ready, you will receive a notification and can pick it up in person from the responsible office. The responsible office will give you an appointment for this. If the application is rejected, you will receive a rejection notice with the reasons for the rejection.
Bearbeitungsdauer	Processing will begin immediately at the appointment if all documents are complete. The delivery time for the electronic residence permit from the Federal Printing Office is typically two to four weeks.
Frist	Submit your application for a residence permit for research purposes for mobile researchers at least eight weeks before your current residence permit expires. If you are already in Germany as a researcher within the framework of short-term mobility, you must submit your application no later than 30 days before the end of your permitted stay in Germany.
weiterführende Informationen
Hinweise	If you apply for a residence permit at least 30 days before your entry and your residence permit from another member state of the European Union is still valid, you may work for up to 180 days within 360 days after entering Germany, even if the responsible authority has not yet decided on your application.
