Teaser	If you are eligible to vote in the upcoming election and are registered in the electoral register, you will receive your voting notification in good time before election day.
Volltext	All eligible voters who are registered in the electoral register will receive a voting notification at least three weeks before election day. The voting notification will inform you about the election day, voting time and other important details. It also contains information about voting by mail if you do not want to cast your vote in person at the polling station. The voting notification consists of a cover letter and a voting notification card. This serves to simplify the processes on election day.

Hinweise	If you are eligible to vote and have not received a voting notification 3 weeks before election day, please contact the election office of your local district office immediately. If you are registered in the electoral register, your responsible electoral office can issue you a substitute voting notification. If you have received an election notification with incorrect information (for example, an incorrect address), please contact your responsible election office. Since the list of eligible voters is a deduction from the population register, errors can only be corrected by updating the registration data. If any information on your voting notification is incorrect, please contact the election office to correct the information. Please bring your voting notification card with you to the polling station on election day. If you cannot bring it with you, you can still vote. In this case, you must present a valid proof of identity such as your ID card or passport The election notification contains an application form that you can use to request postal voting documents.
