Teaser	You can have your residence permit extended before its expiry to continue a course of study that you have started in another EU country if you meet certain requirements.
Volltext	The residence permit to continue a course of study started in another EU country is a temporary residence permit. The residence permit is extended for the duration of the compulsory study period or the exchange program that is carried out in Germany. The same requirements apply to the extension of your residence permit as for its issuance. In particular, your livelihood must be secured for the duration of your studies in Germany. As a rule, the residence permit cannot be extended if this was already excluded when the residence permit was issued or last extended

Voraussetzungen	You have a recognized and valid passport or passport replacement as well as a valid residence permit to continue a course of study started in another EU country in accordance with Section 16b (7) of the Residence Act. The validity of your residence permit will expire in the near future. There is no interest in deporting you. Your stay does not endanger or impair the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany. Their livelihood is secure. You can provide proof of a place at university.
Kosten	for a further stay of up to three months: EUR 96 for a further stay of more than three months: EUR 93 Under certain conditions, a fee reduction or fee exemption may be considered.
Verfahrensablauf	You must apply for an extension of your residence permit at the immigration office responsible for your place of residence. Depending on the immigration authority and the matter, it may be possible to apply online. Find out whether your immigration authority offers electronic application for a residence permit. If the application can only be submitted in person, arrange an appointment with the immigration authorities. During the appointment, your application will be accepted and your documents will be checked (please bring these with you to the appointment). Your fingerprints will be taken to issue the electronic residence permit (eAT). If you submit your application electronically, the immigration authorities will contact you after receiving your online application to arrange an appointment at the immigration authorities. During the appointment, your documents will be checked (please bring these with you to the appointment) and your fingerprints will be taken for the issuance of the eAT card. If your application is approved, the immigration authorities will arrange for the eAT card to be produced. After about six to eight weeks you can collect your eAT card from the immigration office.

Kurztext	Residence permit for the purpose of education Extension to continue a course of study started in another EU country A residence permit to continue a course of study begun in another EU country will be extended if its period of validity expires in the near future and the compulsory period of study in Germany is to be continued beyond its period of validity. The extension must be applied for at least eight weeks before the expiry of the fixed term. An extension of the residence permit to continue a course of study begun in another EU country is only possible if the conditions that existed when it was first issued are still met. When the residence permit is extended, it is again limited in time. An extension is not possible if the extension was already excluded by the immigration authorities at the time of the visa being issued or the last extension.
