Volltext	Primary school in Hamburg ends after the 4th grade and your child moves on to the 5th grade of a secondary school. This can be a district school, a grammar school and, if there is a need for special educational support, also a regional education and advisory center (ReBBZ) or a special special school. To do this, you register your child yourself at a secondary school of your choice. To give you an idea of which type of school is most suitable for your child, all students receive an assessment of their further school career in the context of their previous learning and performance development and their interdisciplinary skills with their 4th grade half-yearly report. On this basis and, if necessary, in-depth specialist and educational advice from the class teacher and other teachers, you decide which type of school your child should attend after primary school (parental right to choose). When registering, you can state your first choice school as well as second and third choices and also specify school types that differ from your first choice. If none of your wishes can be fulfilled, your child will be allocated a place at a school that corresponds to the type of school chosen.
