| Teaser | If you are a property owner, you can have your property divided into apartments. |
| Volltext | If you want to divide a building on a plot of land into individual apartments, this must be entered in the land register. This is called establishing condominium ownership. Condominium ownership is the sole ownership of an apartment or of the rooms that are to be used as a residence. Each sole owner also includes a fraction (co-ownership share) of the common property, in particular the land. To do this, you as the owner must submit a declaration of division to the land registry office or conclude a partition agreement. The declaration of division must be notarized and the division contract must be notarized. The condominium can then be sold be encumbered with mortgages or other rights be inherited Note: The regulations for land registry entries and the associated formalities are complex. You should therefore always seek advice from a notary. The entry in the land register is made by creating the apartment land registers. |

| Voraussetzungen | The apartments must be self-contained. You must prove this to the building authority by submitting the division plans, among other things. The building authority will issue you with a certificate of self-containedness. The separateness of the rooms (apartments) is a mandatory requirement for the division of the property into condominium rights. The owner's declaration of division must be notarized. The contractual grant must be notarized. |
| Kosten | The specific fee is calculated based on the business value. Goodwill is the value of the developed property or the value of the property plus the value of the building to be constructed. Please note that the amount of the fee always depends on the circumstances of the individual case. It is best to seek advice from a notary. In addition to the costs for the work of the land registry office, there are also costs for the work of the notary in accordance with the Court and Notary Fees Act (GNotKG). Please ask the notary's office for the amount of the notary fees. |
| Verfahrensablauf | You must apply for registration at the land registry office. However, the registration is usually arranged by the notary who authenticated the declaration of division or notarized the division contract. The documents required for registration are checked by the land registry office. If documents are not complete or in the correct format, the land registry office will inform the notary or you in writing and request that you submit the missing documents or the documents in the correct format. If all the necessary documents are available, the land registry office creates the apartment land registers, which makes the division effective. The apartment land registers are special land register sheets that the land registry office creates for each co-ownership share, i.e. for each apartment. Here it enters: the fraction of the co-ownership of the property the special property belonging to the co-ownership share (the apartment) the limitation of co-ownership by granting special ownership rights belonging to the other co-ownership shares The registration will be communicated to you and the |
