Teaser	You must report the transport of more than 25 grams of cannabis between parts of the protected property of the same cultivation association.
Volltext	If you are a member of a cultivation association, you are allowed to transport cannabis between the properties of your association. However, there is a limit on the quantity: you are allowed to transport up to 25 grams without having to do anything. However, if you want to transport more than 25 grams, you must notify us in advance. This will ensure that the transport complies with legal requirements and that no misunderstandings arise. Transport is only permitted if the parts of the protected property are either directly connected to each other spatially or if the following conditions are met: The quantity transported does not exceed one twelfth of the permitted annual domestic production quantity according to Section 13 paragraph 3. The cannabis is transported in a container that is
